

Recycling and CRP's—Shared Services in New Jersey

August 19, 2010 (8:00 am—12:00 pm)

Course Code: ER0313CB11

Registration fee: $10

Location: Clayton (Gloucester County)

Due to overwhelming demand, the Association of New Jersey Recyclers and the NJAES Office of Continuing Professional Education have teamed up to present a second offering of this popular program, originally offered on June 16 in New Brunswick.

Anticipated changes in staffing due to budget cuts, early retirements or a combination of the two are causing municipalities across New Jersey to re-examine policies, procedures and plans. Learn how shared services—including those of Certified Recycling Professionals (CRP's) might play a role. The workings of Interlocal Service Agreements will be discussed and several "case studies" of agreements that work—and some that did not (and the reasons why), accompanied by information on the financial aspects of the relationships will be presented.

Invited speakers (subject to change): Franz Adler (Recycling Coordinator for the City of Margate and the Borough of Longport), John Fry (Rutgers SPAA), Bernard Peterson (Recycling Coordinator for Woodbridge Township), John Rasimowicz (New Jersey Dept. of Community Affairs) and Kevin Thompson (Recycling Coordinator for the Borough of Sea Girt).

Note: this program will be held in Clayton (Gloucester County).

This program has been submitted for approval for Certified Public Works Manager (CPWM) credits and will provide three (3) recertification credits for Certified Recycling Professionals (CRP's). Cancellations will not be accepted but substitutions are welcome.
