

OUR VISIONS AND VALUES

ANJR - The Association of New Jersey Recyclers - is a non-profit (501c3), non-partisan network of representatives from the public and private sectors committed to the promotion of recycling and sustainable resource management through advocacy, education and the advancement of professional standards.

OUR membership represents the public and private sector, local and county government officials, the recycling industry and the business community.

ANJR firmly believes that New Jersey needs an integrated solid waste management plan, and will facilitate that plan with education and advocacy around the issues of:

*Recycling * Source Reduction **

*Household Hazardous Waste Management * Electronics Waste Management (E-Waste) * Medical Waste Management * Buy Recycled * Sustainability * Biosolids Management * Composting * Litter Prevention and Reduction*

ADVOCACY

ANJR advocates the development and execution of sound recycling policies in New Jersey. Some current and recent examples and issues include the following:

- Long term funding for recycling education and programs
- Producer responsibility for products and packaging
- Market development
- Promoting procurement of recycled products
- Electronics Waste Management (E-Waste)
- State Rules and Regulation at Class B & Class C Recycling Facilities
- Waste prevention

ANJR works with legislators and regulators to assure that solid waste and recycling laws are reasonable and productive, that market realities are recognized, and that impediments to recycling are minimized.
